HER FINAL PRACTICE DEVOTED TO THE KICKERS.

NEW FORMATION TO PROTECT THE MAN WHO PUNTS-THE ELEVEN SAID TO HAVE IM-

PROVED GREATLY THIS WEEK.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

New-Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—The Yale football team was carefully drilled on kicks this afternoon. Butterworth, Murphy. Frank and Louis Hinkey and Sanford followed the team closely and kept every man on the jump. The 'Varsity lined up against the scrub, and McBride and Chamberlain were called on for kicks just as fast as the two elevens could form against each other. The play elevens could form against each other. The play was faster than it has been this season. Both Me-Bride and Chamberlain kicked well, and Hall and Hazen, the ends, got down the field all right. Hall did not miss a tackle, and nailed his man without did not miss a tackle, and nailed his man without a gain on every chance. The most encouraging feature of the practice was that not a kick was blocked. This happened several times in the Harvard game, and in some cases it was only good luck that prevented disastrous results. The line held well to-day, and Princeton will block few Yale kicks on Saturday.

Another element of strength in Yale's kicking game is the formation back of the line on a kick. This is so arranged that no man on the opposing side knows whether McBride or Chamberlain will kick the ball. The kick is thus doubly hard to block. Captain Rodgers and his men fluished their practice for the season of 1837 this afternoon, and the eleven and substitutes are resting for the great struggle with Princeton on Saturday. All that Yale can do in the way of preparation for the meeting with the men of Old Nassau has been done, and the University is all eagerness for the game.

The city is already beginning to show signs of game.

The city is already beginning to show signs of the coming event, and to-morrow's trains will bring hundreds into town. Few can be found who predict a Yale victory, but one of the coachers has inspired hope by the statement that Yale on Saturday will prove 50 per cent stronger than she was against Harvard.

PRINCETON'S KICKING GAME. NEW SCHEME FOR GUARDING THE FULLBACK-KELLY MAY PLAY.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 18 (Special).—The Tiger football warriors lined up this afternoon for the last practice of the season. No hard work was last practice of the Varsity did not play a regular prac-done, and the Varsity did not play a regular prac-tice game with the scrub. Baird is still confined to his room with tonsilitis, and only careful nursing will enable him to play on Saturday. He was much better to-day. Holt had a bad cold, and was ordered to remain indoors.

After the signal drill the team practised a new formation to protect the fullback when he is kicking. Wheeler had a chance to practise punting, ing. Wheeler had a chance to practise punting, and the scrub lined up against the 'Varsity and tried to block the kicks. Wheeler was able to get his kicks away in good time, and had none blocked. The ends were sent down the field on these punts, and both Cochran and Craig showed that they were in fine form, as they missed no tackles and invariably downed the runner in his tracks. A little later the 'Varsity gave the ball to the scrub and asked them to punt. This was done to give the team practice in preaking through and stopping kicks. Hillebrand stopped several punts, but the work in this department as a whole is not good.

the work in this department as a whole is not good.

The appearance on the field of Kelly, dressed to piay, was pleasing to the large crowd present, and after some light work he went in at his old place at right halfback. He ran with the ball several times and seemed to stand the work fairly well, his shoulder giving him little trouble. It looks as if he would be able to play part of the Yale game.

The team will be taken out on the field at 19 o'clock to-morrow morning for light signal practice, in order to keep them from getting stiff. At 1:39 o'clock in the afternoon the eleven and substitutes will take the train for New-York and thence to New-Haven, reaching the City of Elms at 8 o'clock. The entire party will go directly to the Pequot Club, at Morris Cove, where they will spend the last night before the game.

NO CRIPPLES IN HARVARD'S TEAM. FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 18 (Special).-Harvard's 'Varsity eleven went through their last signal practice this afternoon with plenty of snap and ginger. There was nothing listless or slow about it, and Forbes was well pleased. It has been decided that no orippies shall enter the game this year, as was the case in the Pennsylvania game last season. Richardson will take Cabot's place at left end, and Mills will play tackle for Donald. Neither of these is expected to weaken the line. Wheeler, however, is expected to weaken the line. Wheeler, however, is not quite as strong as Sawin. Warren will not be able to play halfback, and Parker has been put down to take his place.

The burial of Jack, Harvard's famous bulldog, occurred this afternoon. Jack has leng been a pet of the team, and his grave was marked this afternoon with a little tombstone bearing the word "Jack" upon it. The tombstone was paid for by subscriptions from the members of the team. It stands side by side with the Soldiers' Monument on Boldiers' Field.

There was a comparatively small crowd on hand to cheer the members of the team as they left the Square on the way to Philadelphia this afternoon. This was less due to lack of enthusiasm than to the fact that the team was on board a special car of the street railroad company, which was not allowed to draw up at the customary place for cheering. It started for Boston as soon as the men were on board. Nevertheless, seven hundred men remained in the Square and cheered lustily for Captain Cabot and each member of the team, ending up with the Harvard yell.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

CROMWELL PRESIDENT OF RICHMOND. THE BOARD OF CANVASSERS TO GIVE HIM THE CERTIFICATE TO-DAY-DR. FEENY TO CONTEST THE COUNT.

The Board of Canvassers of Richmond County practically completed its work yesterday afternoon, and, as the figures appeared on the sheets last night, George Cromwell has three more votes for right, George Cromwell has three more votes for President of the Borough than Dr. J. L. Feeny. The Board is to meet again at noon to-day and foot up the columns and declare the result. The Board accepted the figures as shown on the face of the returns and made no corrections or al-terations. The disputed Sixth District of Middletown was counted without the four votes in disterations. The disputed Sixth District of Middletown was counted without the four votes in dispute being taken into consideration. If they had been counted Dr. Feeny would have had one more vote than Cromwell. As they stand, the figures are: George Cromwell, Republican, 5427; Dr. J. L.

Feeny, Democrat, 5,424.

If they stand that way when the Board completes its labors the certificate will be awarded to Mr. Cromwell, and Dr. Feeny will probably at once take steps to contest the right of Mr. Cromwell to take possession of the office of Borough President.
There was a stery affocat last night on Staten Island, which could not be traced to any authentic source, to the effect that a surprise was to be sprung to-day; that counsel for the Democrats was to obtain an order from the Court this morning nullifying the order of Justice Smith, and requiring the Board to canvass the Sixth District of Middletown in such a manner as to credit Dr. Feeny with the four votes. This order was to be served on the Board at the last moment. Then, before the Republicans could come to New-York or Brooklyn to obtain a counter order relative to the disputed Cromwell ballots in the Twelfth District of Castleton, the result would be declared and the certificate awarded to Dr. Feeny. This would then place the burden of action upon Mr. Cromwell.
The report that the election officers of the Twelfth Castleton District were missing is not well founded, as yesterday all those who served on the Board were in Staten Island and said they had not been away and did not intend to go. They said that if there was an error it was not a criminal one.
The only incident yesterday during the count was one.

The only incident yesterday during the count was the discovery that the void ballots in the Ninth District of Northfield were not attached to the return, and it was thought that they had been burned.

CANVASSING THE VOTE ENDED. BUT THE ALDERMEN MANDAMUSSED BY THE CITI-ZENS UNION CANDIDATES IN THE XIXTH DISTRICT.

The work of the Aldermen acting as a Board of Canvassers was closed yesterday shortly after noon, and the entire canvass of the vote of 1897 polled in the city of New-York was finished. Missing returns were filled in from the copies on file at Police Headquarters.

A mandamus, issued in the Supreme Court on the application of the Citizens Union candidates in the XIXth Assembly District for Assemblyman and Alderman, was served on the Board yesterday The Board is ordered to show cause this morning why the Election Boards in several districts should not be called upon to make a new count of ballots to include some thrown out and sent to the Board of Canvassers as doubtful. The Corporation Counsel will represent the Board in court.

The tabulated returns from the XXXIst Assembly District show Alderman Elias Goodman reelected. The vote is as follows:

Alderman Goodman gained five votes in the canvass. A protest was made by the Tammany candidate, but withdrawn. He was the only Republican Alderman elected without the indersement of the Citizens Union or an arrangement by which the Citizens put up no candidate.

DISGUSTED WITH PLATT'S COURSE. Henry G. Burleigh, formerly a Member of Congress from the Whitehall (N. Y.) District, is thorthose in charge of the Republican side in the re-cent campaign. "I have always voted the Republican ticket," he said yesterday, "and I think I dare point out the errors made by the party leaders. Senator Platt had the opportunity of a lifetime when the Republican convention met. He should when the Republican convention met. He should have said that, inasmuch as the Republican Constitutional Convention had declared that municipal issues should be separated from State and National politics, and whereas the sentiment of the majority of the Republicans seemed to be for Seth Low, he proposed to make Mr. Low's nomination unanimous, But he didn't do this; he didn't rise above the level of his surroundings. Mr. Platt's attitude came near causing open rebellion in the rural districts. This division of the Republicans had given the Democrats a wonderful chance. If Mr. Van Wyck gives a good and cleen administration he can make New-York a practically impregnable fort of Democracy. Much depends upon the harmony within Republican ranks and errors on the Democratic side."

PLATTISM BOILED DOWN.

To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: "The New-York Sun's" leading editorial in to-day's issue closes with this paragraph:

"Well, only one thing remains for us to do. When Congress meets it should authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to close out the whole seal bustness. Kill the animals, sell their skins for what they will fetch, and let the Canadian poachers and the London furriers decide between them who is responsible for the deplorable result."

This is Plattism boiled down. Rule or ruin. The

It is interesting to compare "The Sun" of to-day it in that of Tweed's time. He is the organizer of future victories. He is the rock on which broke (sic) the forces of disruption."

BIG DAMAGES FOR BEING BLACKLISTED

F. R. KETCHAM GETS A VERDICT OF $21,604 AGAINST THE NORTHWESTERN RAILROAD.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Frederick R. Ketcham recovered a verdict of $21,666.23 in Judge Clifford's Court to-day in his suit against the Northwestern Rail-road Company for $25,000 damages for blacklisting. The case has been on trial for nearly three weeks and has been of great interest to railroad men. During the great strike of the American Railway Union Ketcham was employed as a conductor for the Northwestern Railroad. He joined the strikers, and the evidence showed he attended some of the meetings in the interest of the American Railway Union. Since the strike, Ketcham alleges, he has been unable to secure steady employment, owing to the fact that he was blacklisted. He obtained several places with other roads, but after working a short time was discharged, he declares, without cause. Not long ago he secured employment with the Michigan Central Elevator Company, at Kensington, and moved his family to that suburb. He worked a short time and was discharged.

The trial was hotly contested on both sides. Once during the trial Judge Clifford was asked to issue bench warrants for the arrest of T. B. Lawrence superintendent of the Wisconsin division of the Northwestern road, and E. E. Osborn, autorney for the company. It was represented to the Court by the plaintiff, attorney that Lawrence and Osborn, and possibly other officials of the road had attempted to induce Andrew Stader, who had been subpenned for the plaintiff, to leave the city, for the purpose of avoiding the summons of the Court. Judge Clifford refused the request, and that matter is still pending, as the Judge said he would institute an investigation after the case was sent to tho jury.

Many witnesses for both sides were heard, and at and the evidence showed he attended some of the

ENGRENGERSERSENGREDIENER ABOUT

Y whole musical life has been identified with the Chicker-Vi ing Pianoforte, commencing in Albany and even before I possessed my first Grand, which instrument I selected in Boston and with the aid of Mr. Jonas Chickering himself. Since those early days I have had many Chickering Pianos in use, exchanging as new and important improvements were incorporated; and my opinion (such as it is) has never awerved from my early love - although I fully appreciate and admire the best instruments of other eminent manufacturers.

In the Chickering Piano I find all that I desire in a perfect instrument. No end of splendid and beautiful tone, great power when needed (which also can be graded down ad libitum), a capability of sostenuto like unto the organ itself and with its incomparable action, the means to produce all possible effects incident to the expressive touch of a master hand.

And how a Chickering Piano wears if properly cared for! I am now using at my little summer home a small Upright No. 56799, made seventeen years ago. It is back again from a late visit to the factory, with new strings and an action possessing all the latest improvements, good as, if not better than new, and capable of brilliant and melodious service for many years to come.

I could say much more, but could not have said less. GEORGE WILLIAM WARREN.

THE CONFESSION OF VELASQUEZ.

HOW THE LATE INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF POLICE IN MEXICO JUSTIFIED THE LYNCH-

City of Mexico, Nov. 18 - A sensation was made charged with the murder of Arroyo by the production of the confession of Velasquez, the late In spector-General of Police. It is a most remarkable attempt at self-justification, and makes the assertion that a mob of the common people lynched

Arroyo. Velasquez said in part: "I entertain the most enthusiastic admiration for General Diaz. I have known him since infancy, when my parents taught me to love and respect him. I saw him at Guadalupe during the siege of Mexico, and since then I have entertained absolate idelatry for the man who rules our country. Only two families remained at Guadalupe during and the other was ourselves. When I reached my loyalty, though in inferior posts. While I was still young and with a salary of only 50 a month, I had charge of the private correspondence of Don Manuel Dublan. Afterward I was elected a deputy, and still later the President sent me to occupy th chief position of authority in my native village a a time of religious movement without parallel in the history of our country. The movement volved serious embarrassment to the Government and all of its representatives, and every one know with what skill I acquitted myself in that difficu Velasquez then went on to say that no direct order for Arroyo's killing were given, but that the population ace, already strongly wrought up by the assaupon the President were arred by suggestions to commit the deed. Said he: "I maintain that I have done service to my country in proving that an attack on the President will be followed by swift and terrible venerance of the populace, for nothing but the smallest hint is needed to arm the hands of a populace and bet loose their fury on eriminals. If I have committed fault, it is the result of my enthusiastic admiration and love for the President of the Republic, and I am not able to measure the magnitude of that fault, for, with fourieen to skyleen bours a day devoted to effacts to create sufficient police protection for the life of him with whom the peace of Mexico is bound up, it may well have happened that the functions of the heart have acquired a preponderance of the brain, and that in reality I have committed a grave error. I thought I was doing right in organizing a popular manifestation to avenge an attack on the President, and thus give birth in the people to a profound convetilon, that punishment for such an act would come swiftly in the form of lynching, or whatever it.

position as a friend and as a partisan and as may be styled."

He went on to show that others besides himself thought justice should be dealt to Arroyo. This confession, in the light of the evidence, is seen to be full of missiatements, and in no case would it have prevented Velasquer's prosecution, for the Government was determined to punish the crime.

Mrs. Isabet Green, one of the leading ladies of Colchester, Conn., gives some valuable advice in these words: "For three or four years I suffered with backache and bearing down pains and various other allments peculiar to womankind, and tried many kinds of medicine, but until I commenced the use of Warner's safe cure, I never received any permanent relief.
